I went to LEGOLAND California and it was awesome! Miniland was the best! I was wondering how long it took to build the whole park?

Alex Joyce, 11
Washington, DC

Ah, I look in my crystal ball and see only clouds... the answer is very cloudy.. oh wait, my crystal ball just needs cleaning. There! Well, LEGOLAND® California opened in March 1999, and was the third LEGOLAND park in the world. It took three years to build all the models and attractions in the park – and new ones are always being added! So you might say they are still building LEGOLAND California (and they need a heck of a big box to hold all those bricks, let me tell you).

AMAZING REDINI! GREAT POWERS HE HAS. BUT NO JEDI... MORE THAN A FLOATING HEAD A JEDI MUST HAVE.

Do you make the LEGO magazine at LEGOLAND or in a secret place?

Taylor Makekau, 10
Washington

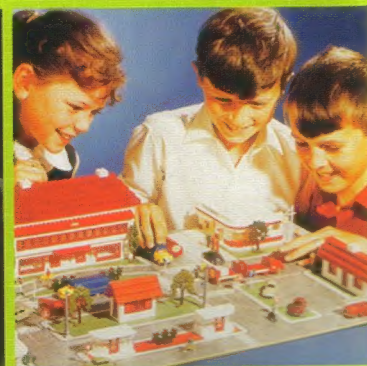

Oh, it's not a secret place! Once you get past the massive iron vault door... across the river of fire... around the man-eating moray eels... through the Cavern of Haunting Sing-a-Longs... underneath the Tomb of the Unknown Mini-Fig... and down into the depths of the Dungeon of Deadline Doom... it's a cinch to find!

Where did you come up with the name LEGO, and why do you use that name?

Derick Warner, 13
Missouri

I had to go back in time to find out this answer (and I overshoot by a lot... anyone know how to get T-rex drool out of a mystic robe?) Back in 1934, the founder of the company, Ole Kirk Christiansen, held a contest among his staff to pick a name. The winner (suggested by Ole Kirk himself) was LEGO – which is a contraction of a Danish phrase, "Leg Godt," which means "play well."

What is LEGO brick paper, and how much does it cost?
Frederick Worzalla
Wisconsin

I asked the mystic oracles this question, but they were silent... I think they are angry because I haven't been returning their calls. Anyway, brick paper is a special kind of graph paper designed to help plan LEGO models. You can get brick paper, just like the kind the professional model builders use, for FREE! That's right, just go to www.lego.com/graph and you can print out as much brick paper as you need.

Attack of the Clones™

OBI-WAN KENOBI™

Obi-Wan Kenobi has matured into an accomplished Jedi Knight. He now serves as Anakin Skywalker's Jedi mentor, but he worries that the youth's impulsive nature and recklessness may jeopardize their mission to protect Padmé.

YODA™

The oldest member of the Jedi Council, Yoda is a wise and cautious Jedi Master. Although he is small in size, his dexterity and fighting skills are as well-developed as his knowledge of the Force. His wisdom allows him to sense the existence of a great threat to the Republic, a threat he sends Obi-Wan to investigate.

ANAKIN SKYWALKER™

In the years since Anakin Skywalker began his training as a Jedi, he has grown into a confident, headstrong 19 year-old with a flair for adventure. But there is a darker side to Anakin as well... one he has only begun to discover, and one he finds difficult to control.

COUNT DOOKU™

A renegade Jedi and master swordsman, Count Dooku is a powerful leader. Disillusioned with the Republic, Count Dooku has inspired thousands of solar systems to secede and follow him. He threatens to incite the first full-scale galactic war since the formation of the Republic!

PADMÉ AMIDALA™

Now a Senator from Naboo, Padmé has grown more beautiful and wise with the years. When Anakin Skywalker is assigned to protect her, she finds herself falling in love with the young Jedi. But soon their peaceful time together turns into an urgent and dangerous mission to save Obi-Wan Kenobi on the planet Geonosis.

JANGO FETT™

Resourceful and dangerous, Jango Fett is known throughout the criminal underworld as the best bounty hunter in the galaxy. His armored suit provides him with protection and weaponry, along with a powerful backpack capable of jet propulsion and missile projection.

CLONE TROOPER™

Virtually indistinguishable from one another, clone troopers are identical in physical appearance, mental capability, and stamina. Part of a clone army, they are grown in the cloning facilities of Tipoca City, a luminescent city of industry emerging from the raging seas of Kamino. Grown and trained specifically for military combat, the clone army was mysteriously commissioned ten years earlier.

ZAM WESELL™

Zam Wesell is the dangerous, highly skilled bounty hunter mysteriously hired to stop Senator Amidala. Wesell is an excellent tracker with unsurpassed marksmanship. Wesell gets more than she bargained for when her attempt is foiled by the Senator's Jedi protectors, who pursue the bounty hunter on a harrowing chase through the Coruscant skyline.

7153 Jango Fett's Slave I™

Slave I is quite similar to its owner, Jango Fett: obviously dangerous and with many deadly surprises for those who would dare challenge it. It's designed for speed, stealth, and combat – plus special modifications allow prisoners to be carried inside. With his son, Boba, Jango flies Slave I from world to world in search of profit.

compartment and lock

7133 Bounty Hunter™ Pursuit

Obi-Wan and Anakin are in hot pursuit of the bounty hunter Zam Wesell! Zam uses her fast speeder to weave through the crowded skyline of Coruscant, trying to escape the Jedi. But Anakin doesn't give up easily – he'll catch her, if he can!

7143 Jedi Starfighter™

When Obi-Wan Kenobi needs a ship that's sleek and fast, he turns to the Jedi Starfighter. The Jedi Starfighter is swift and powerful, but also maneuverable enough to allow Obi-Wan to dodge asteroids.

THE STARS OF STAR WARS™
ARE BEHIND THE CAMERA!

By Scott Chernoff

This article was excerpted from the book The Stars of Star Wars™ by Scott Chernoff, and is reprinted courtesy of LucasBooks and Random House Children's Books. © 2002 Lucasfilm Ltd. & ® or TM where indicated. All rights reserved. Used under authorization.

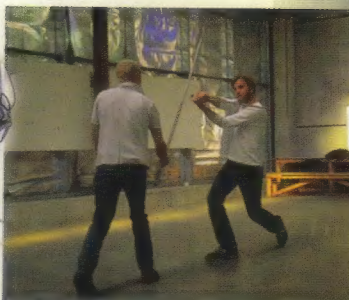

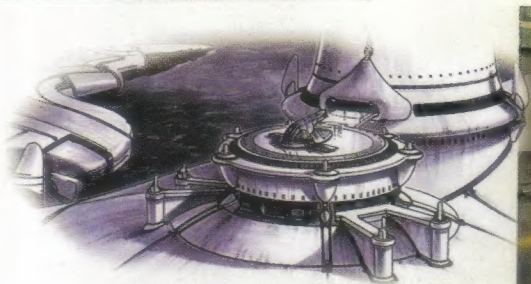

You may have noticed a few special effects in the Star Wars™ movies. Actually, you'd probably be amazed at how many visual effects you've missed. In Star Wars: Episode II—Attack of the Clones™, almost every shot in the movie is touched in some way by the artists at Industrial Light & Magic (ILM), George Lucas's special effects company.

Attack of the Clones™ has roughly 2,200 effects shots, an increase of more than 500 since Episode I™! There is so much work that it is divided into a number of different units, under the leadership of four visual effects supervisors, and another team dedicated solely to animating the 80 or so computer-generated characters that populate the story.

According to animation director Rob Coleman, the most difficult "cg" character performance to get right was that of Yoda™, the wise old Jedi™ Master. In the original Star Wars trilogy, Yoda had been performed as a puppet on the set by Frank Oz. For Episode II™, however, Yoda will be "cg" character from credits to curtain, and it's up to Rob and his team to create a performance that lives up to his past appearances.

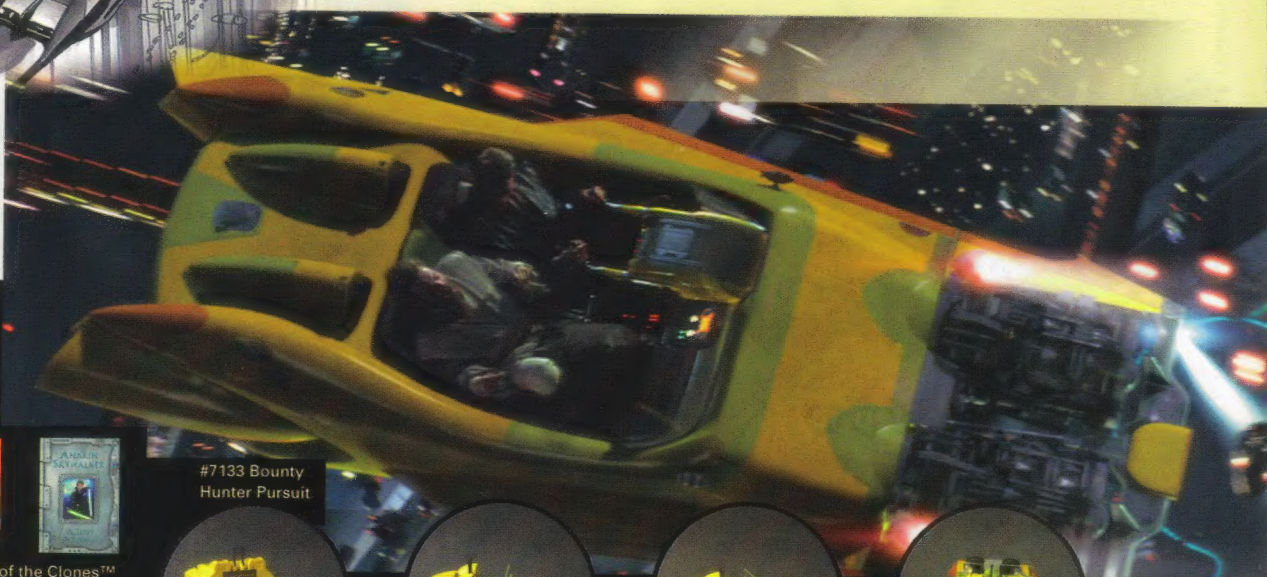

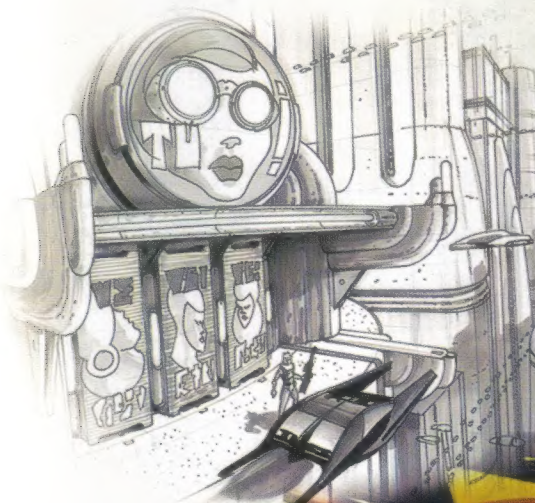

Some of the most breathtaking moments in Star Wars: Episode II Attack of the Clones™ are the thrilling lightsaber duels set against the special effects backgrounds. Stunt coordinator and sword master Nick Gillard is the man responsible for every move made in every duel from Phantom Menace™ and Attack of the Clones™—which tends to keep him busy.

Nick says he had "a hundred times more" work on Episode II™ than he did on Phantom Menace™. "We had a big chase sequence with speeders, and that was tricky," he says. "That was quite a long chase, and they're falling off ships and jumping through windows, so that was complicated, keeping them [the actors] safe."

Ghekula

The ghekula is an amphibious creature found in the swamps beneath Le-Koro on the island of Mata Nui. The activities of the Bohrok have forced the gekula to migrate, and many of them are seeking the calmer waters near Ga-Koro. The ghekula are regarded highly by the Matoran, and it is considered bad luck to hurt one.

Photographing Your Models

You've put a lot of work into your model, so you want to make sure your
these tips for getting the best looking shots.

Unless you are making a special background for your model, try to choose a shooting space that is simple and uncluttered. If possible find a background that is either much lighter or much darker than the object you are shooting.

"LEGO Arsenal"

Cheryl Weisskopf, age 8, Brian Weisskopf, age 5, Erin Dilloli, age 8, and Timothy Gilliam, age 6, of New York

"Patriotic Tower"

Molly Grasmick, age 7, of New Jersey

"Max Destroyer"

Matthew Parrolo, age 8, of New York

"LEGO Rocks"

Ian Kitterman, age 7, of Texas

"BIONICLE Boost"

Evan Janta-Bucher, age 10, of Minnesota

"My Little Sister, Kenna"

Nathan Holt, age 7, Sam Holt, age 7, and Kenna Holt, age 3, of Oregon

"LEGO Men"

Justin Lempert, 10, and Tim Frost, 10, of Pennsylvania

"LEGO Station"

Kenneth Rosario, age 6, and Daniel Rosario, age 3, of New Jersey

"Aquarius 11"

Elmer Alvendia, age 39, of New York

"Subterranean Diver"

Jeff Gordon, age 13, of Ohio

"Sting Ray Sub"

Ian Jackson, age 13, of Texas

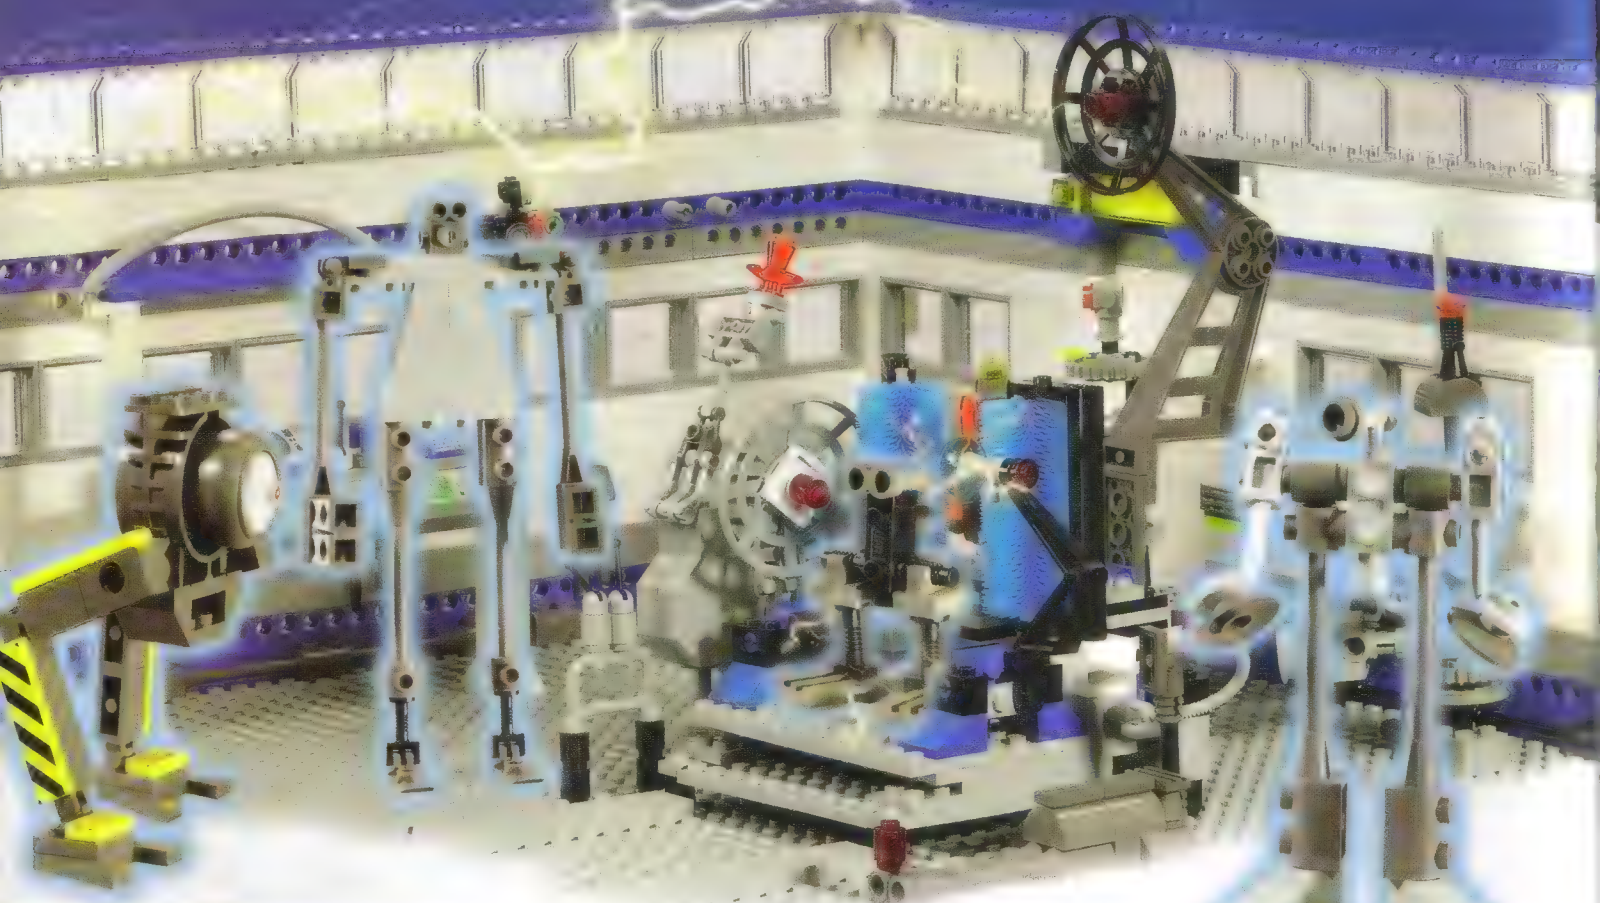

See if your camera has a "macro" function. This setting is good for getting very close to your subject, filling the entire frame with the object can really show off your handiwork.

When possible shoot in a space that is brightly lit by the sun but try to avoid direct sunlight. Direct patches of light can cause hot spots and glare on your object while making the rest of the image appear too dark.

Rockin' Robots

In a hidden laboratory, three robots are hard at work building a fourth. It's ultra-secret programming: take out the rubbish, clean the lab, mow the lawn, scrub the fusion reactor and run down to the store for a quart of oil...so they have more time to build. (If they build one that does homework, too, we'll let you know.)

STAR WARS

Discover the secrets of the STAR WARS Universe!

Have you ever wanted more information about your favorite LEGO Star Wars vehicles and figures? Ever wondered what movies the real vessels and characters appeared in, and what role they played in the Star Wars saga? Then the LEGO Star Wars Timeline at www.lego.com/starwars is for you! You'll find entries on virtually every LEGO set based on your favorite Star Wars films! Here are a few samples:

C-3PO™

- C-3PO (or "Threepio") is built by young Anakin Skywalker on Tatooine in Star Wars Episode I: The Phantom Menace. When Anakin leaves the planet to undergo Jedi training, C-3PO does not accompany him.
- Years later, in Star Wars Episode IV: A New Hope, C-3PO is aboard Princess Leia Organa's ship, Tantive IV, when it is boarded by Darth Vader and Imperial forces. C-3PO and R2-D2 flee in an escape pod and land on Tatooine. They are later captured and sold by Jawas to Owen and Beru Lars, Luke Skywalker's aunt and uncle.

Slave I™

- Bounty hunter Jango Fett™ flies Slave I with his son, Boba, in Star Wars Episode II: Attack of the Clones. This ship is equipped with rotating laser cannons and a prison compartment. It is designed for speed and maneuverability.
- An adult Boba Fett™ later flies a repainted Slave I, sleeker and faster than the original and virtually invisible to sensors. He uses this ship to track Han Solo to Bespin in Star Wars Episode V: The Empire Strikes Back, and later to transport Solo's carbon-frozen body to Tatooine.

The Final Duel

-Luke Skywalker surrendered to Imperial forces so he could confront his father, Darth Vader, once and for all. (Star Wars Episode VI: Return of the Jedi™)

-The Emperor and Vader waited aboard the unfinished second Death Star II. The Emperor planned to lure Luke to the Dark Side, as he once had Vader.

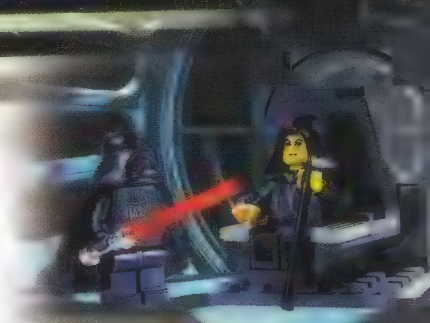

-Luke and Darth Vader battled on the Death Star, but Luke refused to give in and join the Emperor. When the Emperor attempted to destroy Luke, Vader's love for his son overcame his loyalty to the Empire. He saved Luke and stopped the Emperor, redeeming himself in his final moments.

R2-D2™

-R2-D2 is an astromech droid who accompanies Queen Amidala on her voyage to Tatooine and Coruscant. R2-D2 later helps Anakin Skywalker destroy the Federation droid control ship during the Battle of Naboo. (Star Wars Episode I: The Phantom Menace™)

-Thirty years later, R2-D2 carries the plans for the Death Star and a plea from Princess Leia to an aged Obi-Wan Kenobi. He is captured by Jawas and sold to Owen Lars before he can deliver his message. (Star Wars Episode IV: A New Hope™)

-R2-D2 eventually becomes Luke Skywalker's X-wing astromech droid and helps him destroy the Death Star. (Star Wars Episode IV: A New Hope™)

Darth Vader™

-As a boy, Anakin Skywalker was a slave on the planet Tatooine. When he won his freedom, he left to begin training as a Jedi Knight. His actions later helped to win the Battle of Naboo.

(Star Wars Episode I: The Phantom Menace™)

-Ten years later, Anakin is thrust into the midst of galactic turmoil when he is assigned to protect the beautiful Senator Padmé Amidala from an unknown assassin. However, a darker side emerges within Anakin that the young apprentice finds difficult to control.

(Star Wars Episode II: Attack of the Clones™)

-Later, Anakin succumbed to the dark side of the Force, becoming "Darth Vader," one of the most feared men in the Empire and second only to the Emperor in sheer power. He would eventually perish while saving the life of his son, Luke Skywalker, from the Emperor.

Anakin's Speeder Bike

-Anakin Skywalker uses this speeder bike (borrowed from Owen Lars) to travel to a Tusken Raider camp on Tatooine.

(Star Wars Episode II: Attack of the Clones™)

-This speeder bike is an earlier version of the popular repulsorlift vehicle used in later years. They were designed to be inexpensive and fast personal transports.

-Speeder bikes come in many different designs. They are also used by Imperial troops on the forest moon of Endor in Star Wars Episode VI: Return of the Jedi™.

IN THE PRIVACY OF YOUR OWN HOME.

GALIDOR™ Quest Game Guide!

The Galidor™ Quest at www.GALIDOR.com combines action and strategy as you explore the amazing realms of the Outer Dimension. Whether you're solving mysteries and overcoming challenges, or competing with other players in glinching contests, you're in for a new dimension of fun!

TIPS & TRICKS

Talk to everyone you meet. You never know who might have valuable information for you.

Some tasks in the game can be repeated over and over. Don't give up if you fail on the first try. Repeating your action a few times might lead to your character becoming stronger or smarter in the end!

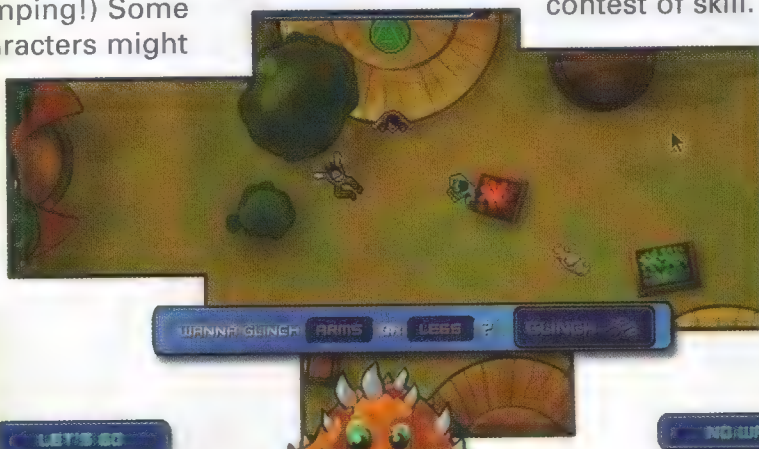

Pick up or trade for any object you can. They may be useful later in the adventure.

Glinching with Other Characters:

During the course of your adventures, you might meet characters who have special arms or legs that could help you (Amphibib legs are great for jumping!) Some of these characters might be willing to glinch with you—if you can defeat them in a contest of skill!

Challenge Arenas:

There are a number of challenge arenas in every realm. When you enter a challenge arena, you can choose to take on another player in a contest of skill. The winner's character gets to glinch with the loser's character!

Coming November 2002!

There's plenty more to see and do on the GALIDOR.com site. Visit the lab of Dr. Sam Bluetooth, inventor of the egg-craft, and learn the secrets of interdimensional travel! Discover the realms and characters of the GALIDOR TV show! Plus get special sneak previews of GALIDOR action figures, and much more!

Help Nick Bluetooth on his quest to save the Outer Dimension in the new Galidor software game for Game Boy.

Everyone in the Outer Dimension has the power to glinch (though no one else can do it quite as well as Nick can!) Here are just a few of the ways you can glinch your GALIDOR™ action figures:

QUESTION: I've never seen a LEGO Star Wars ship like the Jedi Starfighter before. Who flies it and what makes the model look so different?

ANSWER: Jedi Starfighter flown by Obi-Wan Kenobi™ it is. Very fast, especially when through asteroid field you are flying. Obi-Wan is strong in the Force and very brave... but training Anakin he is, and much wisdom that will take. New curved pieces Jedi Starfighter model has. Looks much like the true ship, it does! Obi-Wan very pleased with it he is... but try to fly it through asteroid field, I would not.

QUESTION: So many Star Wars characters have mini-figures or models of them – what about you, Yoda?

ANSWER: Very modest I am – more important things than me to talk about. But exist Yoda model does, and very good likeness it is – posed for it I did. Yoda mini-figure model is out now – Jedi Council member joked that it was life-size, I told him, I did, that size of the spirit, not the body, is what matters. Even the smallest Jedi can do mighty deeds if wise in the ways of the Force he is.

CALIFORNIA

LEGO Club members from around the US came to LEGOLAND in California for a special Club Weekend in February! Among the special guests were the stars of the new hit Saturday morning series GALIDOR™, Defenders of the Outer Dimension, who joined the other Club members for a weekend of action and fun (and maybe some pinching, too!)

GALIDOR

DEFENDERS OF THE OUTER DIMENSION

They don't have roller coasters in the Outer Dimension—so Matthew and Marie-Marguerite had a blast on the LEGO TECHNIC coaster!

Matthew Ewald ("Nicholas Bluetooth") and Marie-Marguerite Sabongui ("Allegra") show off the new GALIDOR™ action figures of their characters.

Families enjoy incredible LEGO Train Display at LEGO Club Weekend!

The Southern California LEGO Train Club gives LEGO train fans the chance to see their large, working train display.

Which classic LEGO set do YOU think should be brought back as a LEGO Legend?

We would like to invite you to choose our next LEGO Legend release! We have selected five sets from years past. These sets were legends in their time, all of which you can read about at www.LEGO.com/build or at the voting place itself www.LEGO.com/myOpinions.

What are LEGO Legends? LEGO has made hundreds of different sets, with new ones coming out every year and old ones disappearing from store shelves. Adults remember sets from the past fondly, or even go out of their way to collect them. A lot of kids might only see these old sets in the Time Capsule section on LEGO.com! Well, with a recent line of LEGO sets, everyone can get their hands on outstanding LEGO designs from the past: the LEGO Legends.

Cast Your Vote!

Around the end of May, we will announce the winning set! So what are you waiting for?? Head on over to www.LEGO.com/myOpinions now and cast your vote!!
